The 5th Annual International Conference of the Immersive Learning Research Network (iLRN 2019) will be held at the University of Westminster in London, UK. It will be an innovative hands-on and scholarly meeting for an emerging global network of developers, educators, and research professionals collaborating to develop the scientific, technical, and applied potential of immersive learning. Workforce trainers, higher education, and K12 practitioners are also invited to participate.

This year's conference theme is "Heart of the City: Immersive Learning in Urban Environments", and the vibrant city of London, provides our attendees with a unique opportunity to focus on the use of immersive learning environments for improving cities and people's lives. Sustainable urban living, civic engagement, generative growth, city simulations and forecasts, transportation, food, water, energy, pollution, and waste systems, sensor networks, algorithmic design, and the intersection of virtually every other technological and socio economic trend on the planet with respect to urban environments are welcomed at iLRN 2019.

Other topics of interest include (but are not limited to):

- Immersive Technologies, Systems and Devices
- Mixed Reality Immersive Learning Spaces
- Cognitive and Pedagogical Analysis
- STEM Education including gender-specific approaches
- Cultural and societal aspects of immersion
- Learning and Training Applications
- Games and Gamification
- A Glance into the Future: Innovations, Challenges and Applications
- Art and Creativity
- Immersive Science

The conference will include regular oral and poster presentations, special tracks, demos, panels and keynote presentations. Full details of the submission process will be made available on the conference website: <http://www.immersivelrn.org/ilrn2019>
